Product Profile & User References

Your dog is adorable, but those ugly red tearstains under her eyes really look bad. The reason tearstains are so hard to eradicate is that they are a visible symptom of a deeper systemic problem.

The most common cause of the redness is yeast infection which in turn is produced by bacteria. That's why, if you want to get rid of tearstains, wiping the eyes is only the first step. Unless you boost your best friend's immunity, the bacteria will persist and so will the stains. happytails has created two new products that work together to fight the problem from the inside and out.

STEP 1 Clean the eye area with convenient, hypo-allergenic EyePads. There's nothing to mix, nothing to measure, Simply take out a pre moistened pad and the herbal infusion gently clears away unsightly smudges. Rub with and against the grain of the fur for maximum effectiveness. The pads are soaked with herbs and botanicals that reduce the discoloration and inhibit the bacteria that cause it.

The pads contain no pharmaceutical antibiotics so are perfectly safe for all dogs

STEP 2 Sprinkle Eyemunity powder on your dog's food every day. The unique formula contains a nutrient rich, high-metabolite immunogen (Epicor) that has been clinically proven to boost immunity on both animals and humans. An improved immune system will fight the annoying bacteria that is the root cause of the redness.

The all natural formula contains no pharmaceutical antibiotics so it won't upset your dog's delicate system and it tastes delicious! Just mix it right into his food and he'll never know. Best of all, not only will it help with that under-eye staining but it will also improve your best friend's overall health! How great is that?

Say goodbye to unsightly eye stains and grubby muzzles! from Adore Le Pug.com

As most of you who read our blog know, we have been grooming Pork & Brown at home these days. We like doing a thorough detail of both dogs to ensure their coats are clean and soft, but more importantly, clean ears, folds, and mouth. I have done some research on the reasons for runny eyes and tear stains (medically referred to as Epiphora). Basically, the bacteria or yeast growth, particularly an organism called "red yeast" (causes the red/brownish stain color and possibly unpleasant odor) thrive on moisture and are attracted to the tear ducts in the eyes. Dogs with eye lash and eyelid problems, and dogs doomed by their genetics from their shallow eye sockets, have faulty tear drainage anatomy. Since Puggies have folds (which are fun to clean), this adds to the problem because the trapped moisture and tears can lead to bacterial infection in the folds and muzzle.

EyePack to the rescue! Say goodbye to unsightly eye stains and grubby muzzles! I am so excited about these two products as I have been wishing for something to make the eye stain go away and ease up muzzle cleaning. The EyePads and EyeMunity not only keeps your dog's eyes healthy and clean, but also improve the overall immune system as the main ingredient in the EyeMunity is Epicor, an ingredient proven in clinical studies to have antioxidant properties. All ingredients are human grade! If you buy the EyePack which has both these cool products, you save $4. So cool!

Basic tips: Give your Puggy fresh water (distilled), use stainless steel bowls, and keep their eyes clean (and area around the eyes like folds and muzzle) and dry everyday.

100% effective

We have been using Happytails Eye Pads on our Shih Tzu Ronny since he was a puppy. We use one pad daily to clean the area around his eyes. I believe that our regular use of these pads has prevented Ronny from suffering any of the normal eye issues that are typical for his breed. They have worked to prevent tear stains entirely and are 100% effective at quickly and effectively eliminating any excess drainage from his eye area. Additionally, they work great to keep his muzzle fresh and clean.

We have tried other eye cleaning pads (when our local store ran out of Happytails), but they did not work nearly as well. In fact, they are still in the cupboard!

Veterinarian recommended

My dog Moose, a 85lb yellow lab suffers from nasal congestion and tearing, causing dark streaks and not helping his handsome appearance. My Veterinarian suggested I try the Happytails Eye Pak and after a couple weeks of use his tearstains were reduced considerably. While I know the product is intended for smaller dogs it works just as well on big goofy ones as well! I just wish it came in a larger size :-)

A hard day in the pool

Thanks so much, we love your products, and as Tinker-Belle said after a hard day in the pool, those Eyepads really really help soothing her eye's. Also, when it isn't pool weather, they also help clean her tear stains, she looks forward to having it done too.

Are tear stains a problem for your pooch? From theSwankyPup.com

My dog is very easy to groom and very low maintenance, except for 2 things: her ears and her eyes. She always needs her ears cleaned (and I found a great cleaner for that... another review for another day) and she always has tear stains (crusty, hard, you know what I mean!) around her eyes.

I recently learned about a product formulated to help with this exact problem! happytails Canine Spa line just introduced EyePack, an all-natural, dual-action product that works both internally and externally to clear away tear stains and help prevent them. Step 1 are Eye pads which you use to wipe your dogs eye area. Step 2 is an immunity-booster powder that you add to your dogs food to help reduce bacteria in their body.

All of the Happytails Spa products are adorably packaged and smell great. My dog was willing to let me try the pads on her and after a few tries her eye gunk seems to have cleared up a good amount. (I haven't tried it for too long yet to really tell in the review but it definitely seems to help!)

Also, happytails sells and markets all different kinds of spa products for the dog about town. They use the finest ("better than human quality") ingredients available to pamper, soothe and beautify today's harried hound. I also got to try the Dry Dog, a spray-on bath replacement with kiwi and aloe (perfect for my stinky dog, it smells great!) and Comfy Dog Oatmeal Conditioner for dry and itchy skin.

No pharmaceutical antibiotics or chemicals

I have 3 King Charles Spaniels who have occasional bouts with tear stains. I particularly like your eyepads, as they have a pleasant herbal scent, and the dogs don't shy away from them as they did others. I've used the Eyemunity powder on a regular basis, and have noticed a reduction in the time between their tearing bouts. Also, their discharge is not as thick and clears up faster. They never hesitated eating their food with the powder on it, so didn't seem to mind the taste. I buy your products, because of the natural ingredients with no pharmaceutical antibiotics or chemicals. It's hard enough to find good human food anymore without chemicals, so I appreciate products like yours to protect my dogs.

Finally, an all natural solution to those ugly tearstains.

*EyePack is a revolutionary two-part program that helps clear away tearstains, without pharmaceutical antibiotics.

The reason tearstains are so hard to eradicate is that they are a visible symptom of a deeper systemic problem. The most common cause of the redness is yeast infection which in turn is produced by bacteria. That's why, if you want to get rid of tearstains, wiping the eyes is only the first step. Unless you boost your best friend's immunity, the bacteria that cause the stains will persist and so will the stains. happytails has created two new products that work together to fight the problem from the inside and out.

STEP 1 Use convenient pre-moistened EyePads to remove the tearing residue from around a dog's eyes. Rub with and against the grain of the fur for maximum effectiveness. The pads are infused with eyebright that helps clean away the discoloration and all natural colloidal silver that inhibits the growth of the bacteria that cause it. They contain no pharmaceutical anti-biotics so are perfectly safe for all dogs.

STEP 2 Sprinkle Eyemunity powder on your dog's food every day. The unique formula contains a nutrient rich, high-metabolite immunogen (Epicor) that has been clinically proven to boost immunity on both animals and humans<sup>1</sup>. Eyemunity will support your best friend's fight against stain-causing bacteria while improving his overall health<sup>2</sup>.

TIP Before starting the program it's a good idea to change the dog's drinking water to filtered or distilled water. Most bottled and tap waters contain minerals that can exacerbate the problem.

EYEPADS

Witch Hazel (Hamamelis Virginiana) A very gentle astringent that utilizes the all natural deansing properties of tanins and volatile oils. Studies suggest that witch hazel strengthens veins and offers anti-inflammatory effects and is useful in relieving such skin conditions as eczema.

Colloidal Silver An effective broad-spectrum natural antibiotic that disables the enzyme that all viruses, fungi and one-celled bacteria use to metabolize oxygen. Colloidal silver leaves beneficial enzymes intact (Unlike pharmaceutical antibiotics) and also soothes skin conditions and cleans eyes safely and thoroughly

Cocamidopropyl Betaine A mild organic surfactant which does not irritate skin or mucous membranes. Is used to improve the "spreadability" of the liquid on the pad so that it better saturates the tearstain.

Golden Seal (Gydrastis Canadensis) Goldenseal is effective for irritations to the eyes and serves as a strong antimicrobial agent and also quickly reduces inflammation and redness.

Eyebright (Euphrasia officinalis) An anti-inflammatory and astringent. Eyebright is rich in Vitamins A, B-Complex, C and D and smaller amounts of Vitamin E.

Rosemary Leaf (Rosmarinus Officinalis) Effective against fungi and bacteria which makes it a useful antibacterial skin and eye rinse.

Raspberry Fruit (Rubus Idaeus) An astringent, raspberry leaf is very beneficial as eyewash.

Echinacea Angustifolia Is antimicrobial and helps to relieve skin irritations

Glycerin an humectant (adds moisture to skin)

Citric Acid Organic acid found in fruits. An excellent all natural preservative.

Potassium Sorbate an FDA-approved, polyunsaturated fat that is used to inhibit microbial growth.

Lavender Flower Lavender not only has a pleasing scent and gentleness but it is also antibacterial and contains anti-itch properties.

EYEMUNITY

Epicor An all-natural, high-metabolite immunogen that nourishes the body's immune system to strengthen resistance and maintain wellness. EpiCor helps to reduce the bacteria that cause tear staining, it delivers three times the antioxidant power of any known fruit, and is excellent for older and immune-compromised dogs. Unlike pharmaceutical anti-biotics which effect the natural healthy flora in the digestive system EpiCor works with a dogs own system to boost his natural defenses. EpiCor is backed by decades of expertise and experience in the animal arena and has proven so effective that it is being introduced to the human nutrition market!

For more information on EpiCor
please go to www.embriahealth.com/pdfs/EpicorWebinarFinal.pdf

Exlyme Pet (a proprietary blend of Prtease, bromelain, papain, Peptizyme SP, Amylase, Lipase, Rutin and Amla) A blend of non-animal source enzymes that facilitate tissue and muscle healing. Enzymes are included as an anti-inflammatory and immune modulating agent. Fungal/bacterial infections can create protein residues (fibrin) and immune complexes (secretory immune globulin proteins) that induce inflammation and can irritate tissue. By supporting the bodies ability to address and metabolize these complexes, Exlyme Pet helps to lessen the inflammatory response.

Andrographis Extract This is an Ayurvedic and traditional Chinese medicinal herb. Andrographis has been found to be an effective anti-biotic, anti-viral and immune system stimulant and is used in cases of infection.

Vitamin C (Calcium Ascorbate) Calcium ascorbate is the mineral calcium combined with vitamin C (ascorbic acid). This combination is well-absorbed in the digestive tract. Vitamin C supports the production of collagen and provides protection against damaging free radicals that can degrade connective tissue.

Astragalus This herb helps to protect the immune system and promote resistance to invasive infection. Astragalus Root is often used in treating immune-deficiency related problems. Modern researchers note that the herb appears to increase the production of the body's T-cells (white blood cells), which attack the invaders that cause disease, and seems to protect healthy cells.

Cats Claw Cat's Claw, frequently called by its Spanish name, Una de Gato, is a potent immuno-stimulant and antioxidant that fights free radical damage and possess antiviral and antibacterial properties. It is believed to effectively cleanse and detoxify while replenishing friendly bacteria.

Dessicated Liver (yum!) Enhances palatability (to a dog probably not to a human) and is rich in B vitamins and is a natural source of iron and folic acid.

Brewers Yeast A naturally occurring yeast, which enhances palatability and contains essential amino acids such as thiamine, chromium and selenium.

Natural Beef Flavor Need we say more? However not only is beef what a dog hopes for dinner it's also an excellent source of iron, zinc, niacin, vitamin B6 and vitamin B12.

Getting rid of tear stains

- 1. Use both products diligently. Start by wiping your dog's eyes with the Eyepads twice each day, wipe one eye with one side of the pre-moistened pad, then turn it over and clean the other eye. Use the pads once only. Add Eyemunity to two of his meals, of course it's best on wet food but if you use dry food you can put the food and a couple of scoops of Eyemunity into a sandwich bag, shake and voila the Eyemunity will coat the food..
- 2. Be patient. Unlike other products on the market Eyepack contains no pharmaceutical antibiotics. The all natural ingredients are better for your dog and far gentler on his system, however it will take up to two weeks to see significant results.
- When using the Eyepads work with and against the grain of the fur. Please note that the Eyepads will not wipe away the redness; the stain has colored your dog's hair so deeply that the hair will need to be trimmed away, but as new hair grows the all natural antibiotics will suppress the bacteria and prevent further staining.
- 4. As the staining clears up you can reduce the frequency of wiping from twice a day to once every few days and give your dog Eyemunity only once a day.
- 5. A win win situation. Eyemunity contains an ingredient called Epicor that boosts your best friends immunity naturally so you can feel good about giving it to your dog every day, not only will it maintain his beautiful new look but it will improve his overall health.
- Because the Eyepads are infused with colloidal silver, a natural antibiotic they are perfect for deaning not only eyes, but ears, grubby muzzles and delicate noses. Anywhere that needs to be dean and germ free.
